

Building Digital Society with BCS Koolitus

Digital advancement brings a wide range of benefits to society, from improved communication and access to information to increased efficiency, productivity, and better healthcare and education outcomes.

ICT education and training system for digital society

A Comprehensive digital skills development system across all sectors of the nation: government, education, business and private sector.

With the guidance of our team develop and implement an action plan for your country for involving all user groups and all levels and forms of ICT competence development to build your digital society.

Basic Digital skills for building Digital Society

Our aim is to decrease digital skills gap and provide people with low digital literacy essential computer and internet skills.

Tech Leads in Digital Society

We offer basic courses in programming, web development, and data analysis, as well as more advanced courses in cybersecurity, software engineering, and project management.

We also provide mentorship opportunities to connect with experienced professionals in the field and receive guidance on their career paths.

Leaders of Digital Society

To facilitate the development of the digital society in your country do not forget the key players. Digital Leadership Academy (DLA) is a Digital Society development program aimed at the competence development of public sector executives with the further goal of meeting the country's digital milestones and national development strategies. DLA is an intense half-year development program consisting of technology management theory and practical methods for public sector leadership.
